It will be the opportunity of a life-time to hear "the best poised man in America" talk of Municipal Reform and its relation to all other reforms, on Thursday evening next, April 8th, when Dr. Eliot of Harvard university when Dr. Ellot of Harvard directory speaks in the Lycolin theater in New London. The car for Norwich will leave immediately after the lecture, which makes it particularly convenient for the many Norwich people who will be giad to avail themselves of this opportunity. See adv.

Madam Morelle Sings at the Spiritual Academy.

Ath the regular monthly concer service held at the Spiritual Academy this Sunday evening at 7.30 o'clock Organist Downett has secured the serwhere of Mindam Morelle, the popular singer of high-grade songs at the Breed theater, to assist the regular choir. Madam Morelle's delightful singing was the cause of the Spiritual Academy being filled to the doors at the last concert, and the number of re quests to hear her again was so great that Mr. Dowsett has arranged with her to again sing at his musical serher to again sing at his musical service. This time she will sing the very difficult aris by Mrs. Jane Torrey, entitled "Queen of the Night," a wonderful combination of prolonged trilling, statecate work, and beautiful broad legate passages. She will also sing the sweet spiritual hymn, "Angel Voices Ever Near," which she does with her spiendid artistic taste.

Mrs. Charles A. Dowsett will also assist, giving a timely violin number, entitled "The Palms."

There is no admission charged for the concert, and the house is filled ear-

BREED THEATER. King of the Ring, Big College Sporting

Moving Picture.

Today at the mainee and evening rformances of the Breed theater will the last opportunity to witness the big college sporting plature. King of the Ring. Popular interest seems to be centered in this big picture, and the manager was wise to retain it to meet the insistent demand. Ituban Detectives is a bold piece of work and fine bit of acting, but having a close rival in the big picture. The Bank Messenger.

The comedy pictures are indeed funand are shown under the titles of Secret, His First Flight, and Choice of Weapons. Mr. Delaney is singing the beautiful popular song, with superb illustrations, called "Mem-ories of You, Sweetheart," and Madam ories of You, Sweetheart," and Madain Morelle with her captivating song, "Lover and the Bird," is proving heraelf an artist of no mean ability, and her artistic rendering of the difficult song is nothing short of charming.

I want to clean house?

We have servants to wait on the waiters to buttle for them:

If I thoughtlessly button my gatters I am stopped by a warning "Ahem" But O, though I'm dressed ten times daily.

And all that we own is sublime, I can't view life gladly and gayly—It's housecleaning time.

They won't let me put on mother hub-bards
And tie up my hair in a knot
And go scrubbing through all of the cupboards
And dusting and rubhing each spot;
I want to be sweeping and mopping.
To brush all the stairsteps and wall.
But such wishes must be stopping—
It won't do at all!

If we only could quit being highbrows
For maybe five days or a week;
Could I only get cobwebby eyebrews
And smudges of soot or each cheek!
I long to taste soap in the biscuit.
To cat from the bare pantry shelf,
But I lank the courage to risk it—
I can't be myself!

They have sent for a vacuum cleaner—
I love to beat rugs on a line.
I'm sure that poor folks are secreter
Than if they led this life of mine.
I yearn to fiap round in old slippors.
To secube till my fingers are bus.
To polish the pots and the dippers—
But then it won't do!
